"Life Will Change" is a song in Persona 5 and Persona 5 Strikers. The song is composed by Shoji Meguro with lyrics by Benjamin Franklin and vocals by Lyn Inaizumi. This song is usually played in a Palace or Jail after the Phantom Thieves have issued a calling card to their heist target. The song overrides the normal battle and battle result tracks. In Persona 5, an instrumental version with an electric guitar replacing the vocals is used in early dungeons (until Okumura's Palace), before being replaced by the vocal variation afterwards, starting from Nijima's Palace. Due to the game's circular narrative, as this Palace is also showcased during the prologue, the full song can be heard then as well. In Persona 5 Strikers, the song plays in the Shibuya Jail, the Osaka Jail, the Tree of Knowledge, and their respective calling card cutscenes. An instrumental version plays in the Sendai Jail and the Sapporo Jail. The remaining three Jails don't feature this track. When this song plays, the Jail's security level is locked at 99%. Because the players have access to a direct shortcut to the Jail's Monarch, they could potentially miss this song. The song is not included among the official soundtracks.

"Bohemian Rhapsody" is a song by the British rock band Queen, released as the lead single from their fourth studio album, A Night at the Opera (1975). Written by lead singer Freddie Mercury, the song is a six-minute suite, notable for its lack of a refraining chorus and consisting of several sections: an intro, a ballad segment, an operatic passage, a hard rock part and a reflective coda. It is one of the few progressive rock songs of the 1970s to achieve both widespread acclaim and commercial success, and appeal to a mainstream audience.

"Poker Face" is an English electronic pop song by Lady GaGa, written by RedOne, Lady Gaga, Charlotte Thersen, and composed by RedOne and Lady GaGa. It was released on January 26, 2009 and is included in her first solo album "The Fame" , is the second title song of his album, and is also the theme song of "Arthur and His Mini Kingdom 2". "Poker Face" has a darker musical tone than GaGa's previous single "Just Dance". The song is about bisexuality and is Gaga's tribute to her rocker boyfriend. As soon as the single was released, it achieved impressive results on the charts in 12 countries. It firmly topped the US nightclub hot dance music charts and became the highest-selling electronic song in the world.
